The community is the difference

No one earns a graduate degree in a vacuum. Joining a community is part of the experience—a part that can make all the difference. And there is no community like this one.

You're about to join a group of bold, motivated classmates and colleagues who are dedicated not just to advancing within their professions, but to advancing their professions as a whole. Seasoned faculty mentors will guide you through practice-based curricula that draw on longstanding connections with Boston's leaders in high-tech, biotech, finance, and healthcare. Whether you study online or on campus, you'll become part of an institution with an expansive global outlook integrated into all of its programs.

Careers Are Made Here

Suffolk's Career Development Center is dedicated to leveraging every advantage of the University to further your career. Whether you're embarking on a new career, advancing in your current line of work, or venturing into a new discipline, our staff offer resources including:

- Career counseling
- Job and internship search platforms
- Professional networking opportunities
- Resume and cover letter review
- Interview preparation

You'll have access to all this during your time at Suffolk and throughout your entire career.

And when we say that alumni of the Sawyer Business School are always connected, we mean it. That's because Suffolk lets all students and graduates take advantage of the Suffolk Alumni Online Community, an expansive database that can open new doors for you.
