

0:00 (upbeat music)
0:03 - At Suffolk University,
0:04 we know that the transition to college
0:05 can be difficult to navigate
0:07 - New classes, new friends and new routines
0:09 create opportunities for self-discovery and independence,
0:12 as well as uncertainty and self-doubt.
0:15 - [Woman] That's why we developed
0:16 our First Year Experience Program,
0:18 a collection of specialty courses, resources,
0:21 and events designed to help make your transition to Suffolk
0:23 as seamless as possible.
0:25 Our unique approach to the first year experience
0:27 ensures students feel one,
0:29 supported by the university's faculty, staff,
0:31 and a wide range of resources.
0:33 - [Man] Two, engaged with student life on campus
0:35 and in downtown Boston.
0:37 - [Woman] And three, included in our community,
0:39 so each student feels like they belong.
0:41 - Through their first year experience,
0:42 students can count on peer support from Rams like me.
0:46 As a first year experience teaching assistant,
0:48 I co-instruct some of our specialty courses,
0:51 and I'm always available to talk with students
0:53 outside of class and connect them with resources.
0:55 - Every Suffolk success story
0:57 begins with our First Year Experience Program.
0:59 (gentle music)